- Considered nutrition key player
- Involved with nutrition
- Mixed or Non-gov. body
Only few interventions reach national coverage
NNP the largest program covers 25% of the country

Majority of interventions with unsatisfactory national coverage

- Early initiation of breastfeeding
- Conditional cash transfers
- Local homestead food production
- Micronutrient powder/Sprinkles
- Iodine fortification
- Zinc supplementation/fortification
- Iron/folic acid suppl/fortification
- Vitamin A supplementation
- Supplementary feeding for MAM
- Therapeutic feeding for SAM
- Nutrition education
- Exclusive breastfeeding
- Complementary feeding
- Household water treatment
- Handwashing with soap
- Insecticide treated bed nets (ITN)
- Intermittent prev. treatm. in pregnancy (IPTp)
- Deworming
- Latrines

Key takeaways

National Nutrition program (NNP) covering 25% of population is the largest nutrition focused program
- Includes promotion of breastfeeding, complementary feeding, nutrition education and distribution of select micronutrients

Interventions included in government supported programs with high national coverage
- Inclusion of Vitamin A supplementation and deworming in National Immunization Day (NID) ensures nationwide coverage

Two large scale water and sanitation projects result in almost universal coverage in terms of access to improved water sources
- Total Sanitation Campaign and The Sanitation, Hygiene Education and Water Supply in Bangladesh Programme (SHEWA-B) result in high coverage for household water treatment intervention

Micronutrient powder/Sprinkles currently at a level of about 10%
- However scale-up plans driven by private sector will likely result in national level coverage

Therapeutic and supplementary feeding with low coverage rates – scale-up and improved coordination crucial

Source: REACH interviews, BCG analysis
Country-context analysis:
High population density factor
Population 150.5 million

Focus on Satkhira (1 out of 64):
• one of 20 Dts prioritised in UNDAF
• high levels of poverty, ultra poor
• repeated natural disasters (cyclone Sidr in 2007; cyclone Aila 2009; excessive rainfall 2011)
• water-logging and salination
• poor nutritional status
• population of 2.2 million

REACH Workshop, Addis Ababa, November 2012
Satkhira District Stakeholder Mapping approach

Conducted July-November 2011 by REACH Country TEAM

- Design, conducting self-reported questionnaires, corresponding guidelines
- Interviews
- Secondary data review, DHS, surveys on food security/nutrition situation
- Coverage maps, intervention coverage tables, survey charts
- Data collection and analysis, produce charts, maps
- Meetings, attendance at working groups, individual follow-ups, reporting

- 84 stakeholders (govt, INGOs, NGOs, academia, private sector)
- Gathered information on 17 UN REACH-recommended interventions (food security, nutrition, water/sanitation, health)
Secondary data review supplemented with technical interviews, and coverage data collection

Secondary data review
- Development of initial stakeholder profiles and interview tracking lists
- Compilation of several stakeholder profile lists to create a master interview list for Satkhira
- Stakeholders include: GoB agencies, UN Agencies, Donors, INGOs, NGOs, Private Sector and Academia

Technical interviews
- Contact stakeholders involved in Satkhira and acquire the first findings of the landscaping phase
- Make a short list of stakeholders working in Satkhira with regards to REACH specific interventions
- Meet stakeholders during mission to Satkhira
- Conduct follow up interviews, via e-mail, phone and in person

Coverage data collection
- Estimation of coverage of the REACH focus interventions
- Gather comprehensive data on interventions delivered by the stakeholder using an excel template questionnaire
- Data collected on:
  - Target groups
  - Coverage estimates (beneficiary and budget)
  - Project duration
  - Activity type/Delivery channel
  - Partners and Donors involved
  - Upazila coverage

Objective

Description

Status
- A list of 150 stakeholders created of GoB, UN agencies, INGOs/NGOs and other actors
- Approx. 135 responses from all stakeholders contacted and interviewed
- 84 technical questionnaires, in addition to secondary data and information gathered at upazila level

Key Findings

Interventions

• Over 50% of the ongoing projects will be completed in 2011 and 2012
• Certain overlapping of interventions
  - Hand washing with soap
  - Nutrition education
  - Breastfeeding education

• Low coverage of therapeutic and supplementary feeding post Nov. 2011 (Emergency Response)
• Large portion are emergency response-type = Over 50% of the 2011 and 2012 total budgets

Coverage

• Very limited coverage of adolescent girls
• Surprising decrease in investment per intervention (particularly between 2012 and 2013)
• Disparity in the number of stakeholders providing education/awareness only as compared to supply

MAY 2012
Most UN REACH-recommended interventions coverage is low

Successes

• Stakeholder mapping: first of its kind at district level in Bangladesh

• Is being used in individual meetings with different sectors to raise awareness and discuss implications

• High level of interest among district stakeholders

• Maps and graphics well received

• Interest in replication in UNDAF and MDG-F Districts, not possible in all 64 Districts so prioritise
Challenges and constraints

- Not covered: quality of programmes, capacity of institutions to scale-up programme
- Needs to be updated (gaps, policy change implications)
- Some reluctance to share info
- Disaggregated data, especially on costing, often unavailable
- Hard to assess multiple ‘package interventions’
- What mechanisms exist, what resources exist/are needed?
- NGOs express need for multisectoral stocktaking, analysis and coordination but see structural gaps in a centralised system
Opportunities

- Satkhira District Commissioner will convene an innovative multisectoral discussion meeting in January 2013 to:
  - Review stakeholder mapping outputs and process, update map
  - Participatory assessment of process: experiences of stakeholders, lessons learned, value added
  - Participatory exercise: is a multi-sectoral process for coordination and planning at district level? If so, how initiate?

- Satkhira experience to be brought into national debate by district voices at planned National Advocacy Event in March/April 2013

- Pilot Use of MST in Satkhira – potential innovation
